

Bernardo Aja has captured some of the world's most recognizable figures such as the Dalai Lama, Bill Clinton, Pelé, Joan Manuel Serrat, Fidel Castro, José Maria Aznar, Juan Carlos I of Spain, and the Spanish Royal House, among others. Between 1997 and 1999 Aja was appointed as personal photographer to Alberto Fujimori, then president of Peru. As a graphic reporter he has worked in South America for agencies including Reuters, EFE and AP.
